Greg Erwin, Managing Shareholder, Houston

Because Winstead is a law firm, customer service is everything, Houston managing shareholder Greg Erwin said. He says, "To do the best job for our clients, we have to have the best people," and teamwork is a key part of this. Winstead gives an annual "We Strengthens Me" Award to four employees who best exemplify teamwork. The firm also has an adopted school, Field Elementary, and employees participate in activities with the students, ranging from serving a dinner for special needs students to hosting the kindergarten classes in the office for trick-or-treating at Halloween. At the firm's annual Halloween event, employees are given paid time off to bring their own preschool children or grandchildren to the office. Everyone is encouraged to dress up and give out candy to both the Field kids and office family members.

Are you hiring?

Our employees are our biggest asset, so we are always interested in talented individuals. We have a number of spots open now, and we also keep the names of qualified candidates in case we have additional openings later.
